A Christian Derspective On the Occult Moderate Occultism: Witchcraft by Richard G. Howe, Ph.D.

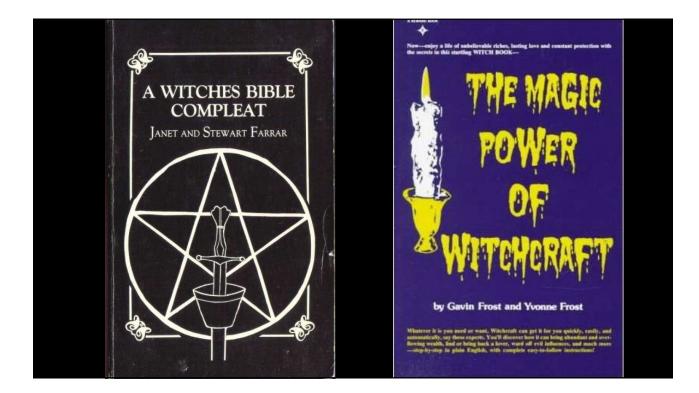

Extreme Occultism: Satanism

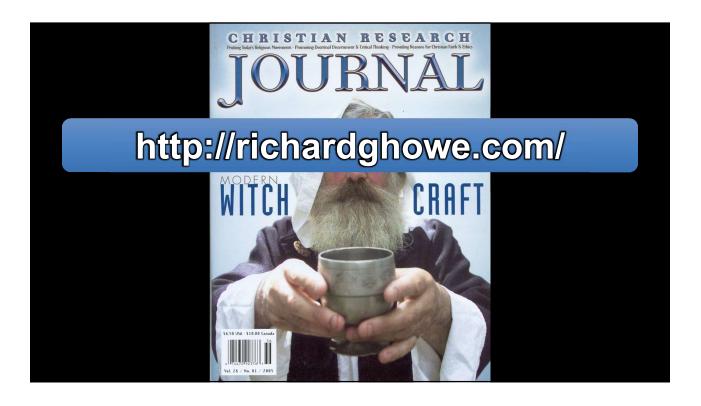

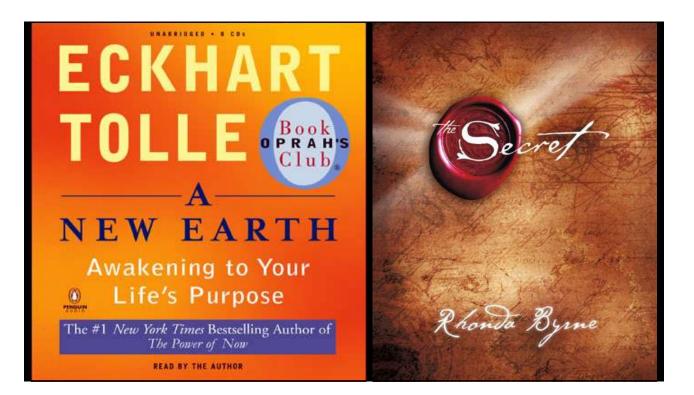

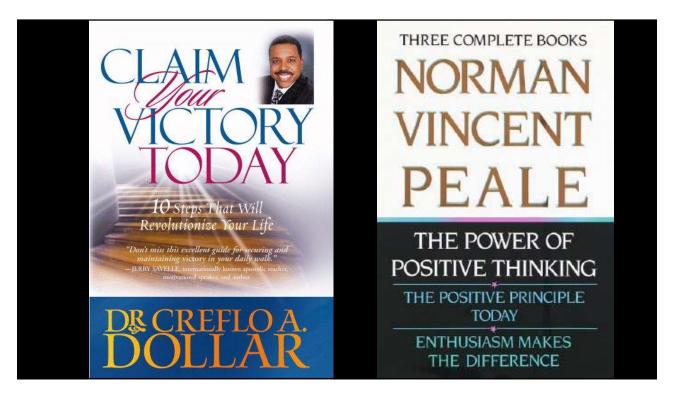

Mainstream Occultism: The New Age Movement

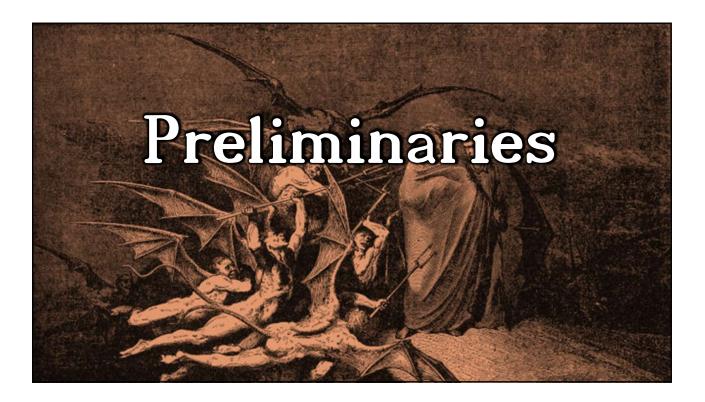

"Christian" Occultism: The Word of Faith Movement

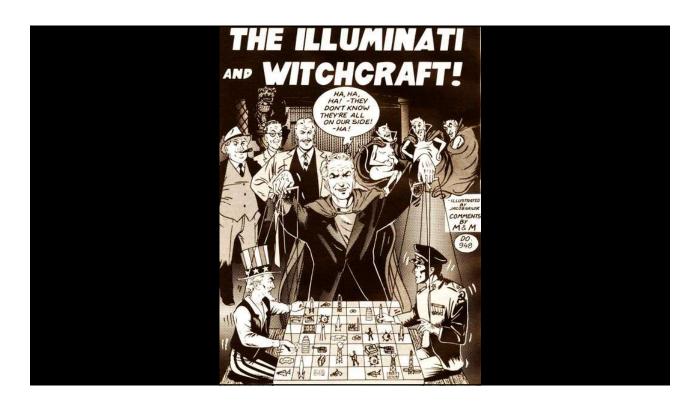

What kind of thoughts does the term 'Witchcraft' bring about for you?

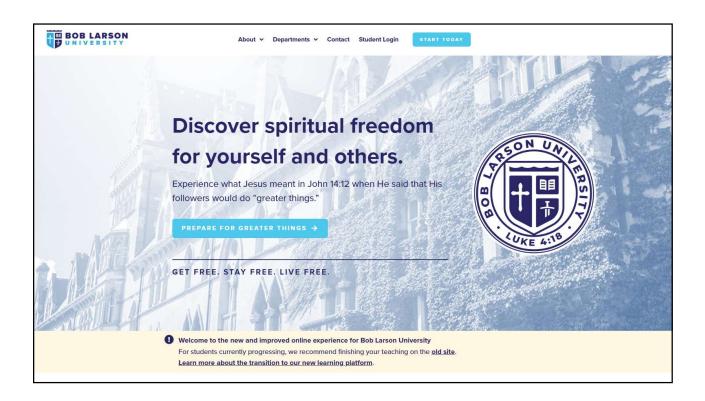

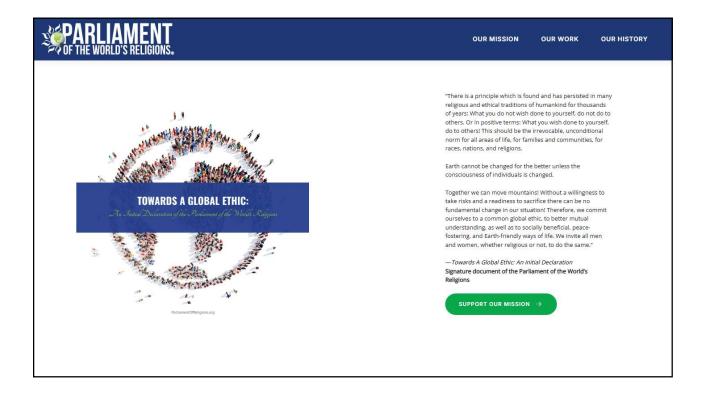

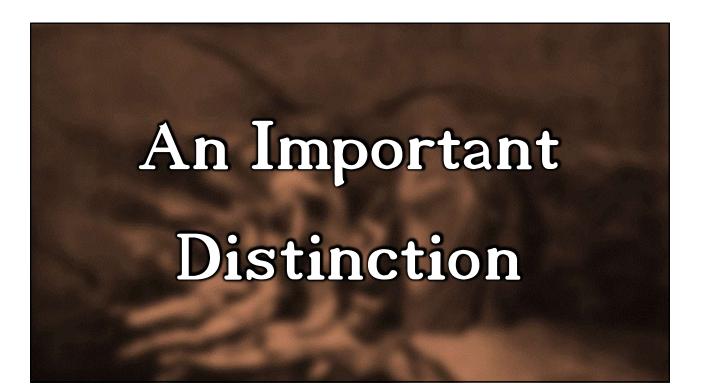

<complex-block>

	PARLIAMENT F THE WORLD'S RELIGIONS.	OUR MISSION OUR WORK	OUR HISTORY OUR 2023 CO	NVENING
	20	23 Chicago
	REGISTER & SAVE TODAY	BUST 14-18, 2023 MCCORMICK PLACE LAKESIDE CENTER	ROGRAM
	Price & Registration		2023 PARLIAMENT of the world's religions
~	යි Hotel & Lodging	A CALL TO CONSCIENCE:	OF THE WORLD'S RELIGIONS
	2023 Programs	A CALL TO CONSCIENCE: Defending Freedom & Human Rights	**************************************
			والمالية المالية المراجع
	AT. B		1 and the state of

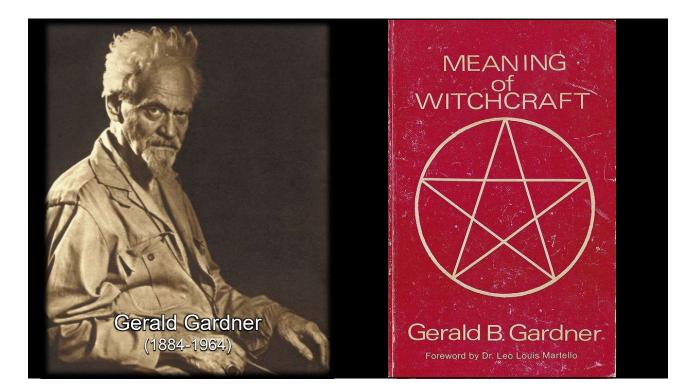

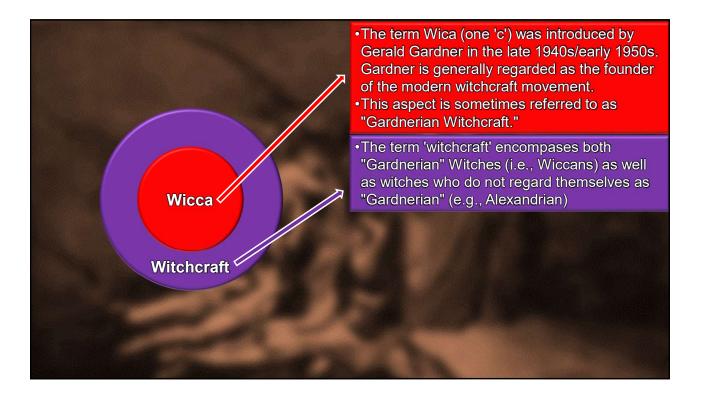

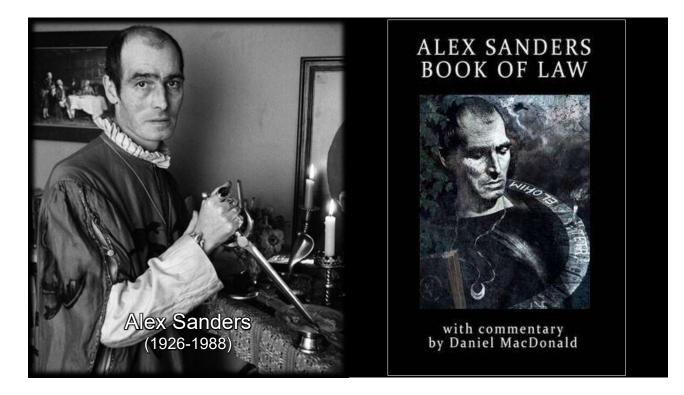

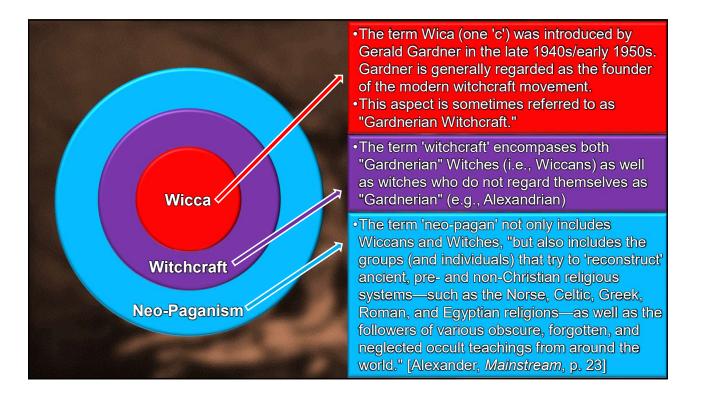

The Many Names of Witchcraft

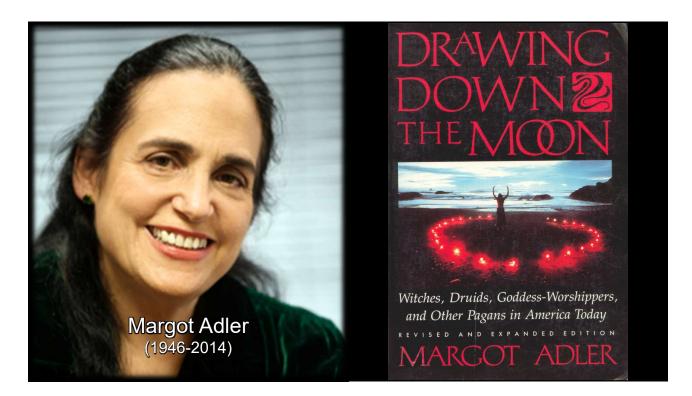

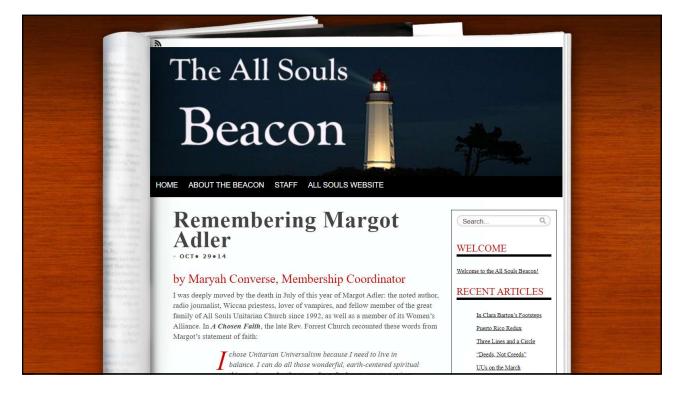

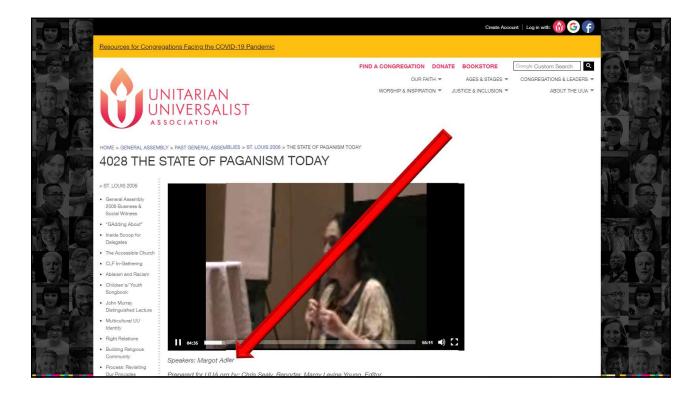

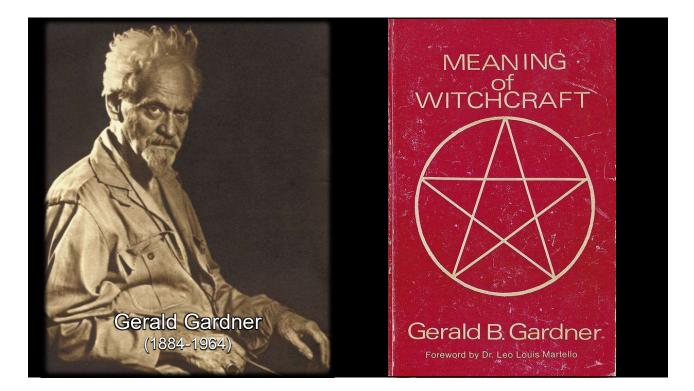

"In the past most writers broke down the Craft traditions into 'Hereditary, ' 'Traditional,' 'Gardnerian,' 'Alexandrian,' 'Dianic,' and sometimes 'Continental.' All these terms now have vague boundaries and mean less as the years go by."

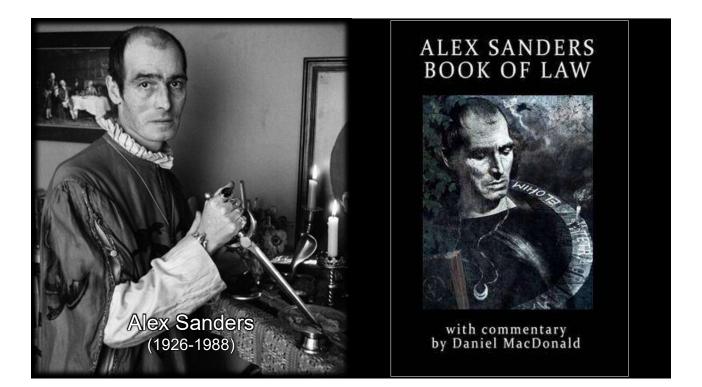

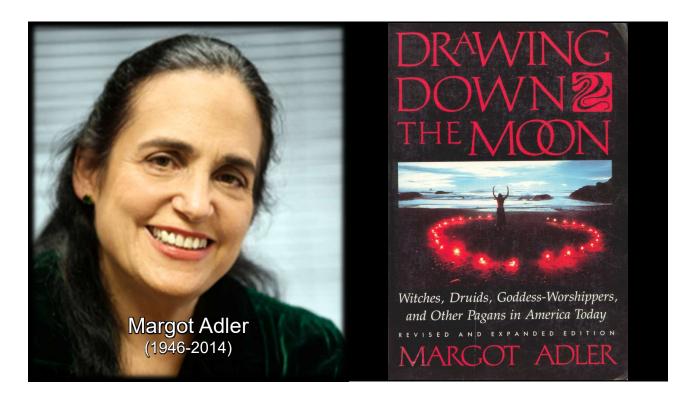

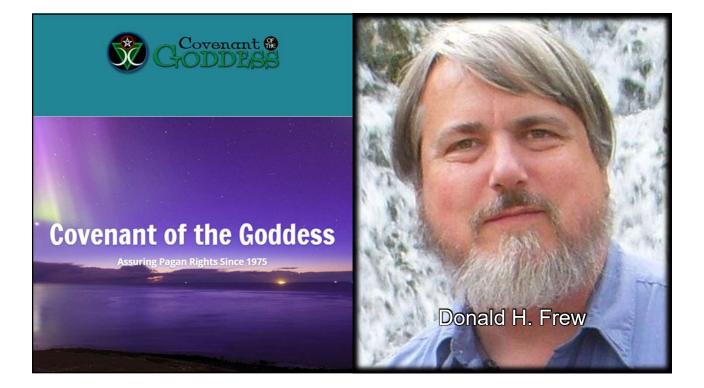

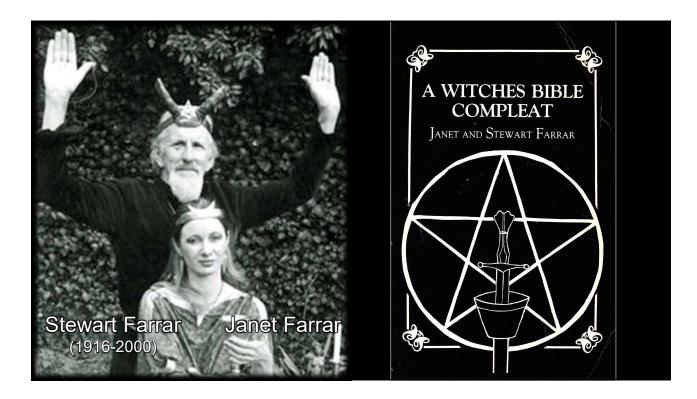

The Many Faces of Witchcraft

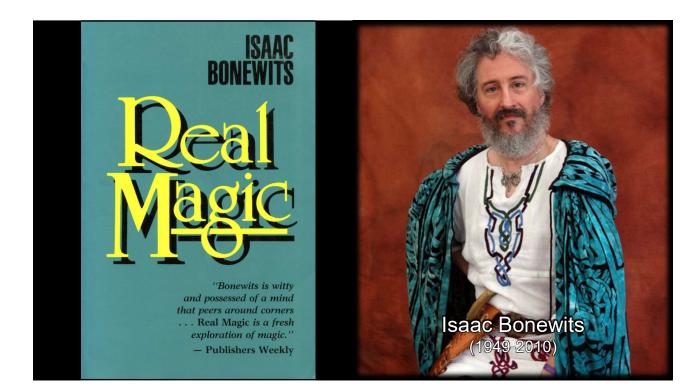

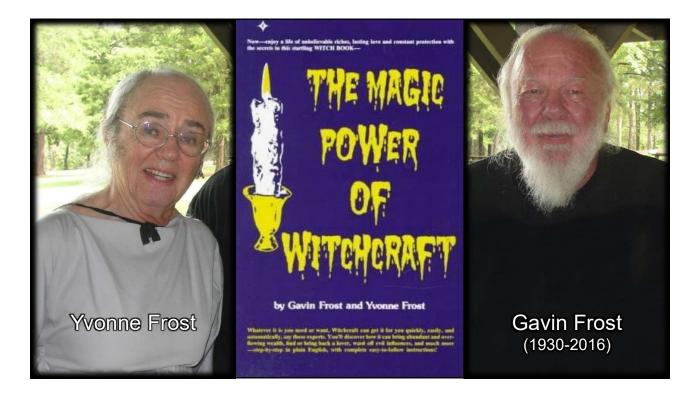

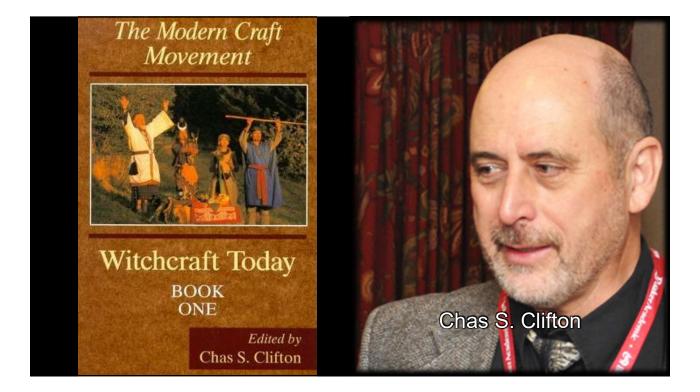

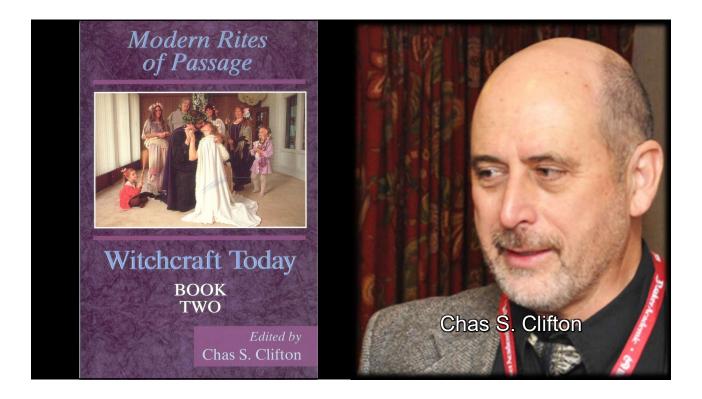

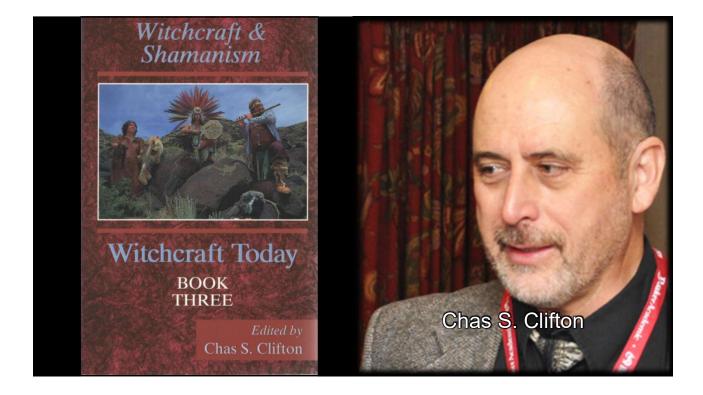

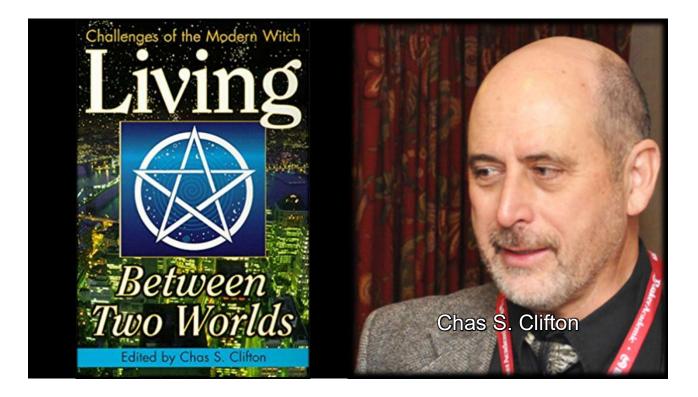

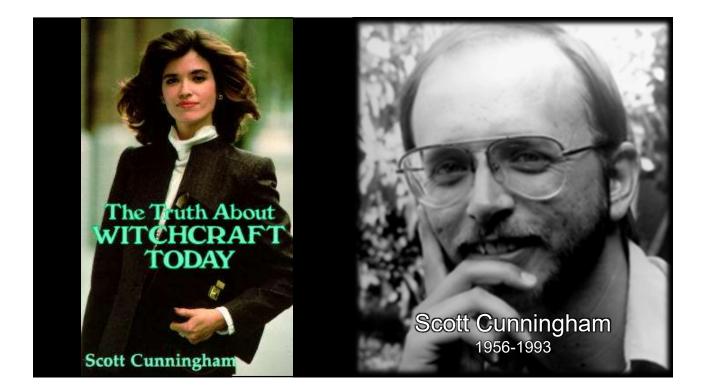

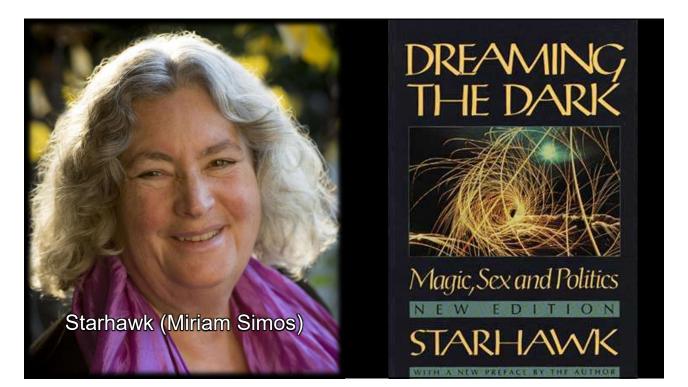

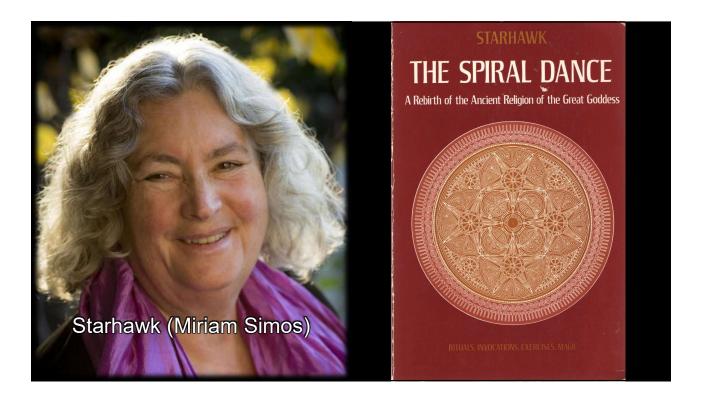

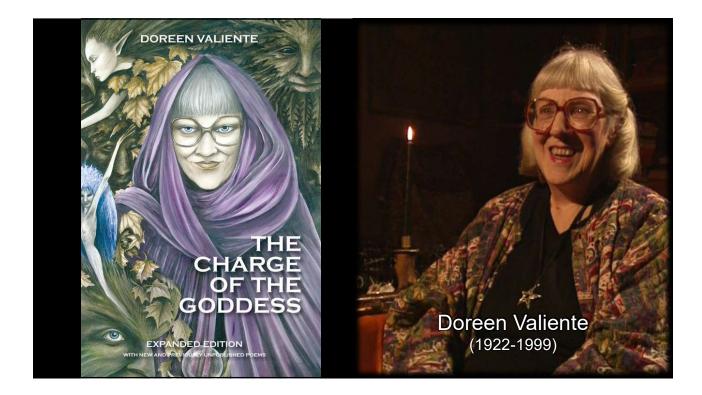

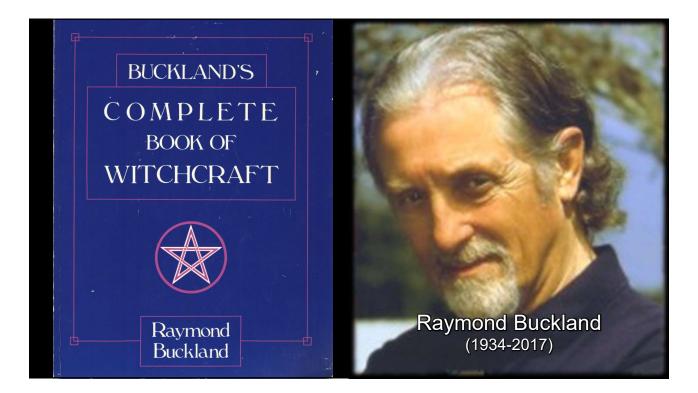

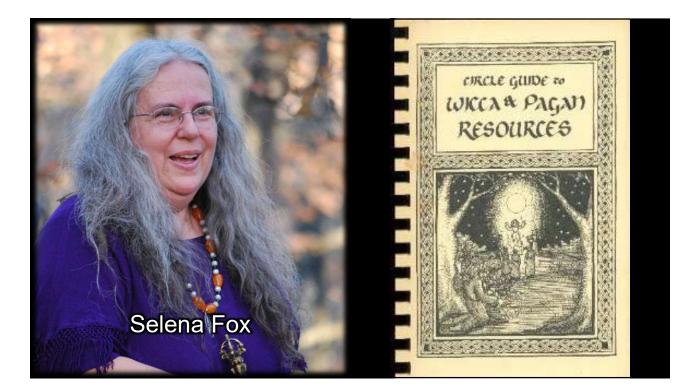

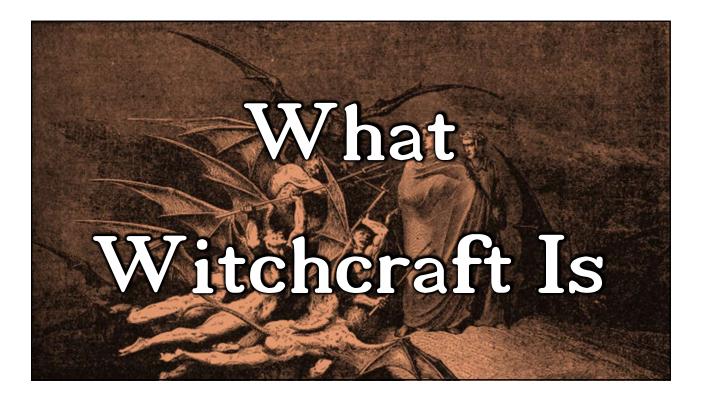

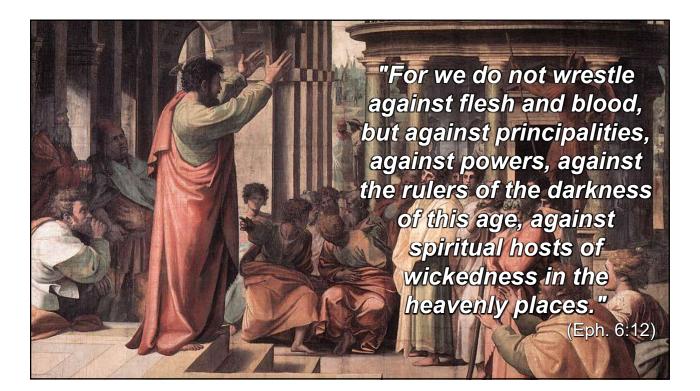

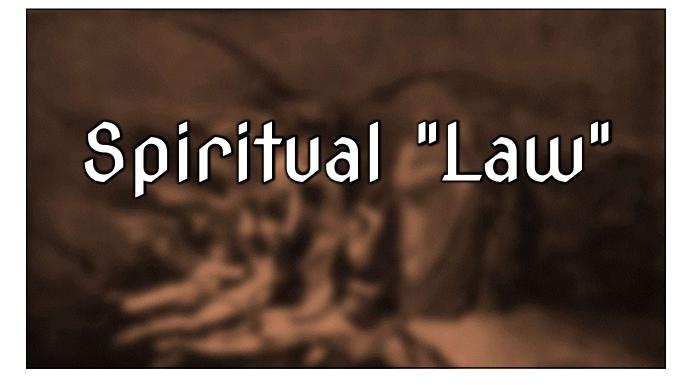

Witchcraft Is a Religion

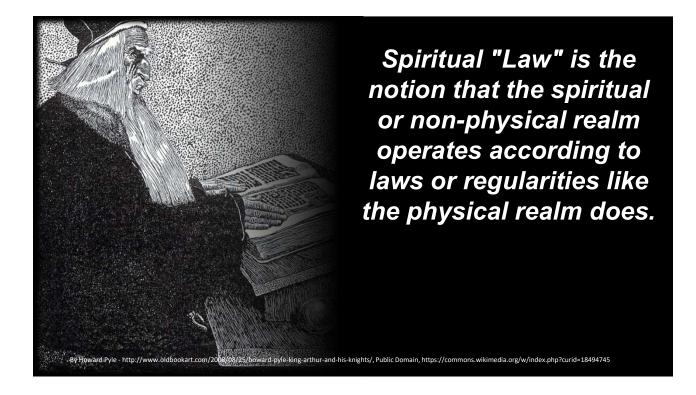

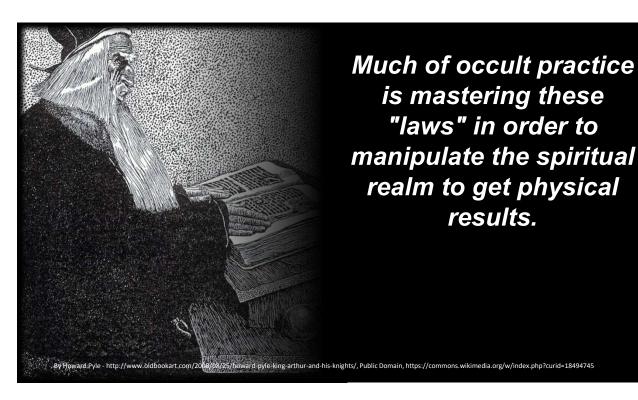

Witchcraft Is a Worldview

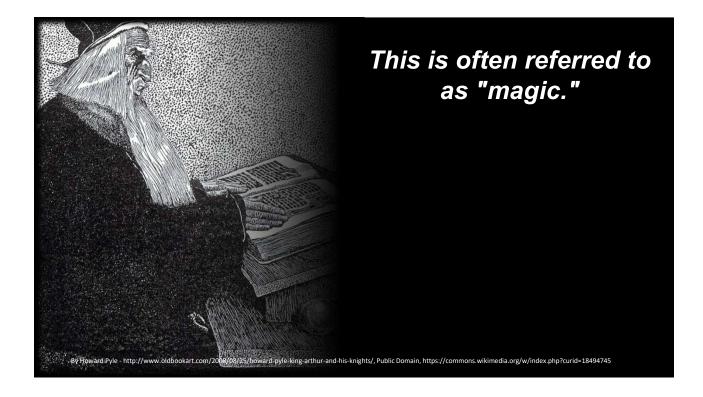

Natur There is no tran	scendent realty.	Supernaturalism There is a transcendent realty.
Atheism	Pantheism	Theism
Humanism	New Age	Christianity
Nothing is God.	Everything is God.	Only God is God.
Monistic		Dualistic
Reality is made of one kind of thing.		Reality is made of two kinds of things: God and His creation.
matter spirit		Note that this distinction is not merely material vs. immaterial.
Evolution		Creation
The basic elements of the universe are eternal.		The basic elements of the universe are not eternal
Darwinism Reincarnation		but are created by God.
Mechanistic All things, in principle, are connected by a cause and effect relationship. science occultism		Rationality and Free Will God has rationality and free will and has created humans with rationality and free will.
Experience		Experience and Revelation
Everything in principle can be discovered by experience.		Some things can be known about God through His creation while scientism mysticism		other things can be known only by revelation from God.

Witchcraft Is Occult

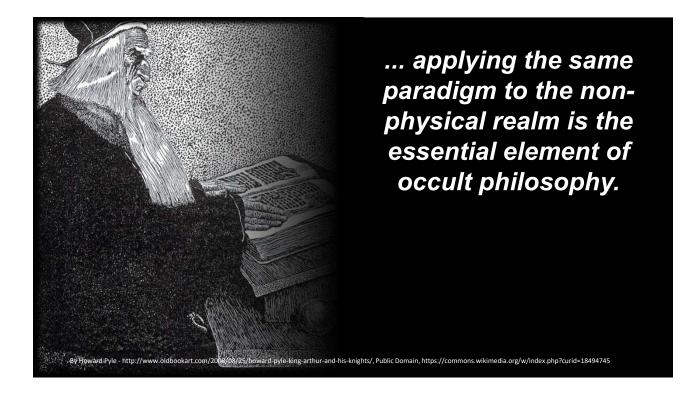

Whereas the cause and effect (action and reaction) aspect of the physical world is the philosophical foundation of all modern science ...

Natural Science

Mastering the laws that describe the behavior of the physical realm to enable us to control physical things and forces for the purpose of manipulating the physical world

Occultism

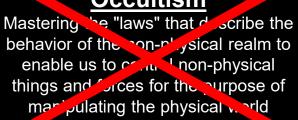

Mastering the "laws" that describe the behavior of the non-physical realm to enable us to control non-physical things and forces for the purpose of manipulating the physical world

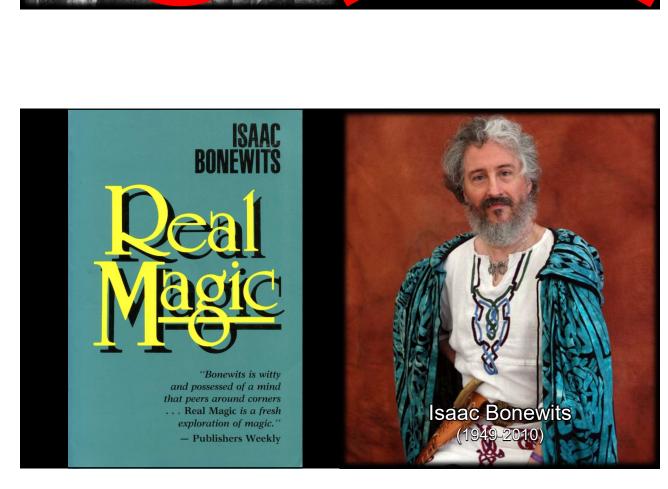

Natural Science

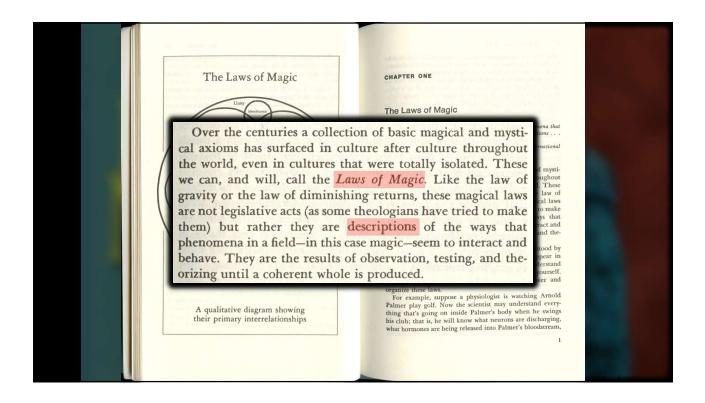

Mastering the laws that describe the behavior of the physical realm to enable us to control physical things and forces for the purpose of manipulating the physical world

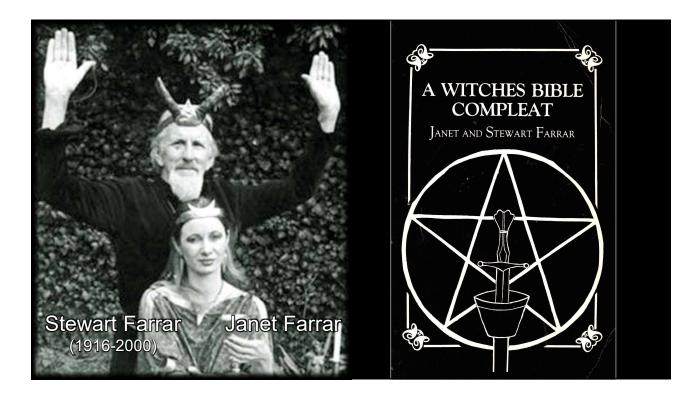

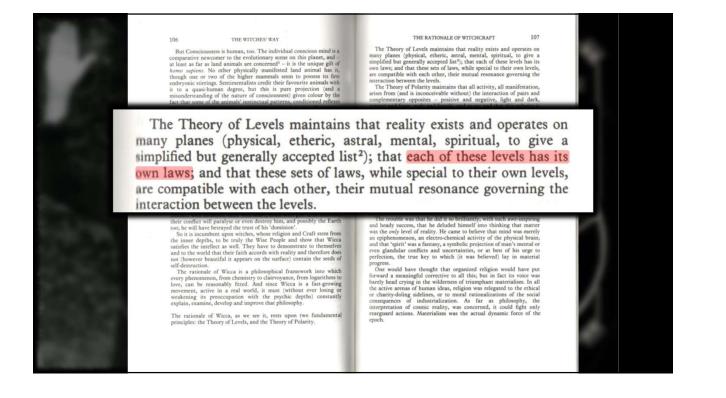

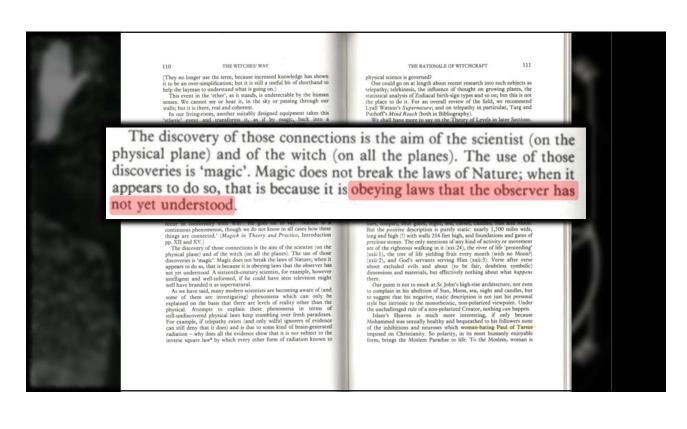

41

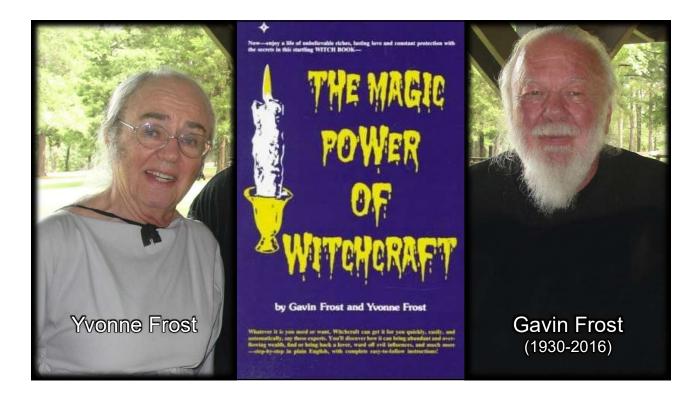

Mechanical vs. Dersonal

There is a hidden force or energy which one can tap into to use for healing or harm. Exactly what this force is, according to the occultists, and what is the best way to tap into it, are what make the differences between different occult groups.

This notion of the force serves as the basis of all occultism.

YOU CAN DEVELOP YOUR MAGIC WITCHCRAFT POWER

would turn down the chance to wield more power. The religious man would use it to further his teachings and to gain more con-verts; the businessman might use it to gain more money; the garbageman's aims might be lower; getting a new car or TV set. All would take the chance and use it - yet power is available to you today. You need not wait for some fairy godmother to come along with her wand. You have power within you. The digiograry defines power as "the ability to do: the canaeriry s power as "the ability to do; the capacity

YOU CAN DEVELOP YOUR MAGIC WITCHCRAFT POWER

shop so that she could give Matt her telephone number with the of course, intrigued by the mysterious force that had caused her to interrupt her sightseeing. Matt talked to her about the powers and proved to her that she too had them. At one of the demon-strations, he was able to tickle her bare feet through a wall. And as a result of this exploration of the power, a lasting friendship grew up between the two young people. By using the technique

You have powers within you. The mysterious life force that Hindus call "prana" can gain power over others for you today; through that power over others, you can gain the more material ends that you may have sought in vain.

old car, no luck at all with the girls, and was about to lose his job through inability to communicate with his fellow workers. A few short weeks later Matt was driving a new foreign sports car, the gift of a young starlet whom he had influenced, and, quite the opposite of being worried about being fired, was thinking of giv-ing up his job to get into the more highly paid writing end of a TV advertising company. What had made these sudden dramatic changes in his life? It was simply that we had shown him how to use his powers and convinced him that he had the power within himself to influence other people. After his first lesson, Matt had gone to Hollywood Boulevard for a cup of coffee; he had seen a young and glamorous starlet and her elderly escort walking along looking at the plaques in the sidewalk. He had decided to try one of the simplest tech-niques: getting her to look at him. He concentrated; almost immediately she turned and caught his eye. Moments later she had made an excuse to her escort, and had come into the coffee

Figure 2-1 Setting Up for Fingers-Across-Palm Experiment 6 HOW TO CHANGE YOUR LIFE WITH THE MAGIC POWER OF WITCHCRAFT in dreaded sweatshops because these masters knew they must not allow their workers to realize that they need not labor their life away. The powers associated with Witchcraft were kept a deep dark secret because anyone gaining the powers would be able to live serenely, no longer enduring oppression and enslavement. Today, however, the suppression of knowledge is not so easy; tens of thousands of people have become initiated Witches. As they learn and practice, so can you. Witchcraft was husked?

Because we Witches are not Christians, we do not have any real belief in the efficacy of the Christian form of prayer. It furthers me nothing, however, to mock the Christian mass or to say to backward, forward or sideways – any more than it would to reject religious acts of Muslim, Hinduism, Buddhism or Shinto. It is better by far to call on the old God Force and to form our wo nure thoughtforms, avoiding any possible evil associated with a call to Satan or to some other devillsh being.

HOW TO CHANGE YOUR LIFE WITH THE MAGIC POWER OF WITCHCRAFT 7

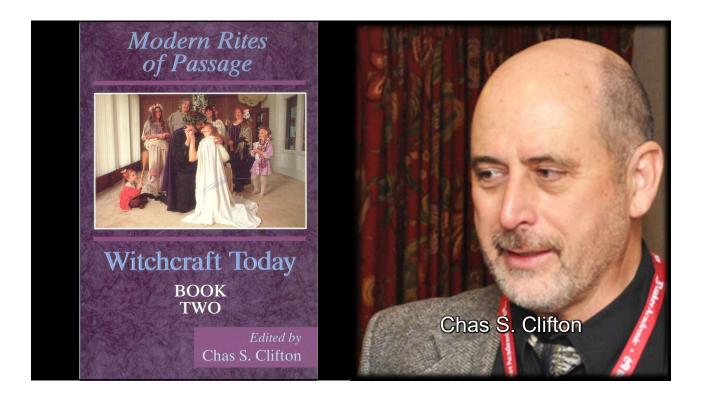

A Witch does not believe in wasting anything. The powers described in this book were made accessible to mankind for our use. People often protest that using these powers is evil, but evil is like beauty: it is in the mind of the doer, not in the power itself. The powers were placed here by the God for us to use.

had just a piece of the truth and what awesome powers are available to the initiated Witch who has full knowledge of his or her powers. As you will see in reading this book, Witches can perceive the truth in its entirety. They realize the existence of the other nine-tenths of the iceberg. They have it all.

SATANISM

Witches are not Satanists, for Satan appears only in the Judeo-Christian Bible. But because thoughts are real things, each time you, dear reader, think of Satan, you add to the thoughtform stored in the vastness of cosmic space, the thoughtform labeled "Satan." This allows people who are practicing Satanists to draw energy from your very thoughts. Satanism is indeed real – but it is not Witcheraft. The Craft was in existence long eons before the name of Satan was inscribed in the Christian writines. evil is like beauty: it is in the mind of the doer, not in the power itself. The powers were placed here by the God for us to use. When the Rural Electrification Authority put power into the farmhouses and cottages of rural America, many said that this new force was evil. But how can a rational mind regard electricity as an evil force? When electricity is used to kill someone, it can indeed be regarded as evil. But when it is used to light the lamp of our understanding, obviously it is a good and beneficial power. Just as the humble plowman seeing the giant turbines and the power lines for the first time had no concept of the benefits available to him, so very few people have any idea of the vast cosmic forces which they can tap. But the forces are there: they should be used, though they should be used in constructive ways

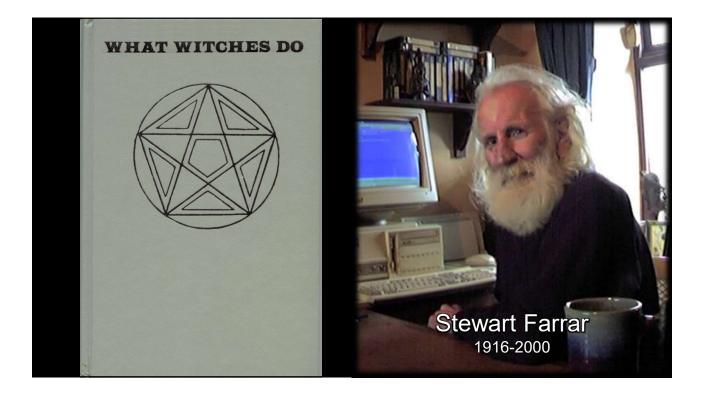

*"God" in this work means both god and goddess, the two halves of the life principle

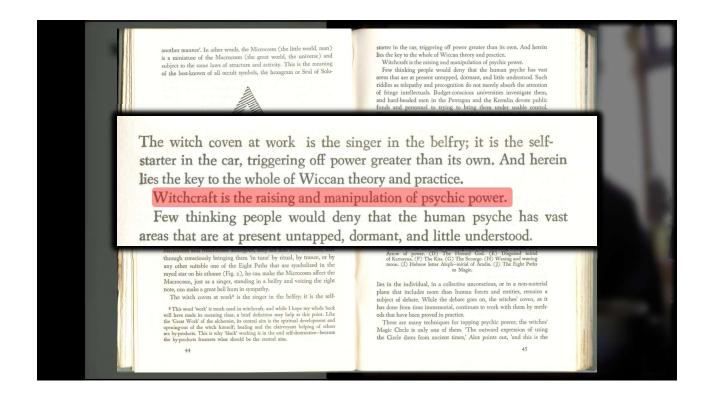

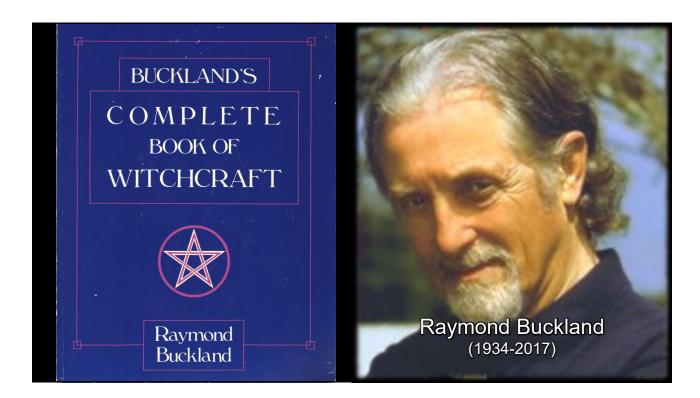

1. We practice rites to attune ourselves with the natural rhythm of life forces marked by the full of the Moon and seasonal quarters and cross-quarters.

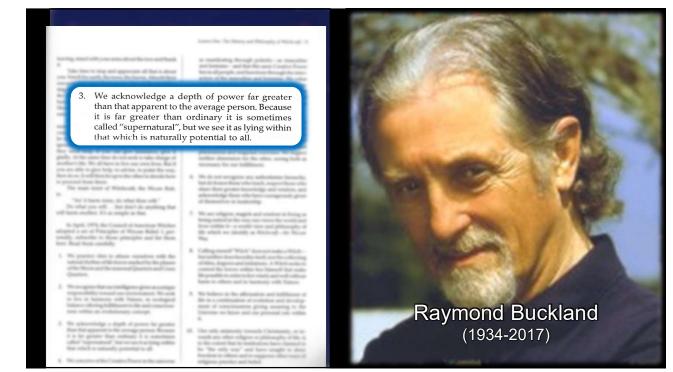

3. We acknowledge a depth of power far greater than that apparent to the average person. Because it is far greater than ordinary, it is sometimes called "supernatural," but we see it as lying within that which is naturally potential to all.

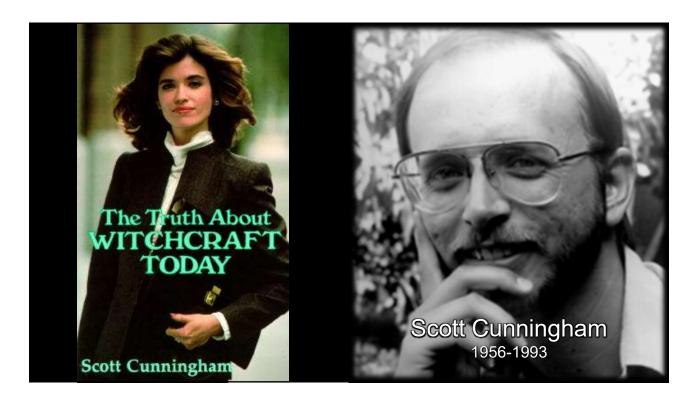

4. We conceive of the Creative Power in the Universe as manifesting through polarity—as masculine and feminine—and that this same Creative Power lives in all people, and functions through the masculine and feminine. We value neither above the other.

49

2 / The Truth About Witchcraft Today

This, too, is Witchcraft.

Thanks to a

average perso

Satanic worsh believe Witch ship, unsavor

Persons w exist: murder

the religion in ple aren't Witcl

they've been

motion pictur hours of viru been readily a they've been nored.

It isn't sur

These examples sum up Witchcraft. It is a religion known as Wicca. It is also the practice of folk maric

Though times have changed, contemporary practitioners of folk magic accept the same principles and perform rituals similar to those of bygone eras.

Folk magicians don't use supernatural powers. They're not out to control the world. They aren't dangerous or evil. They simply sense and utilize natural energies which have not yet been quantified, codified, and accepted into the hallowed halls of science.

These energies spring from the Earth itself, not from demons or Satan. They're present within stones, colors, and herbs, as well as within our own bodies. Through timeless rituals, folk magicians rouse, release, and direct these energies for the purpose of creating positive, specific, needed change.

As is often the case, the truth about Witchcraft is far less tantalizing than the lies. It doesn't lend itself as readily to talk shows as Satanism and rarely creates headline news. But it is there.

Folk Magic

Folk magic is just that—the magic of the people. Long ago, practicing simple magical rituals was as normal as eating or sleeping. Magic was a part of daily existence. To question its effectiveness, or indeed its necessity, was tantamount to a 20th-century person questioning whether the Earth is round. rers. orld. They aren't en't utilize natural ntified, codified, s of science. Fied, Earth itself, not ns rouse, release, pose of creating > gies is no more e materialist, this ie of the Earth. To to "dominate and connection with dangerous, evil.

> > The Spell / 19

Introduction / 3

All three viewpoints are, perhaps, correct to their holders—but not to folk magicians. Once again, folk magicians have bypassed traditional, orthodox religion that states that power is in the hands of "God" and His priests, saints, and earthly representatives. They have gone further than the materialists in recognizing the qualities of nature. And they—in common with many others—simply don't worry what atheists think.

Folk magicians are persons who, unsatisfied by religious or physically based creeds, have investigated the Earth and its treasures. They've gone within themselves to sense the mystic powers of the human body and to feel its connections with the Earth.

18 / The Truth About Witchcraft Today

you had a real spell.

Many seem to think that simply by gathering together a few objects (the stranger the better) and chanting a few words, the powers of the universe will spark and move and produce miracles. This is the product of a world that believes magic to be super-proper peak of energy as well as to the prerequisite state of mind, the magician simply released the power and the spell was finished.

Chants, candles, incense, and even the Moon contain specific energies which can be utilized in magic but such tools aren't necessary to the performance o

No demonic power flows to help the spell-caster. Instead the magician, by correctly performing a spell, builds up what I call "personal power." At the proper time this power is released to go to work in manifesting the spell.

to be coaxed into this belief.

After the glory days of magic this natural approach to magic was gone. For spells to be effective magicians had to lay aside their culturally ingrained disbelief. The very nature of spells changed. The magician donned special clothing which symbolized the event about to occur. Candles were lit and incense burned to produce the proper romantic atmosphere. The spell might have been worked exactly at midnight in a desolate area with the Full Moon shining far above. Strange words were chanted to stir the power within the magician. Finally, after an hour or so of working up to the show that no one type of spell will be equally effective in every folk magician's hands. Additionally, all spells published or not—can be effective.

Spells are designed to release personal power within the magician. It is this energy—along with natural objects such as crystals, herbs, oils, incense and the like—that powers the spell, that gets it moving. How does it work? We can't fully explain it yet, but the following theory seems valid: There is a power in the universe. It is the power of life.

There is a power in the universe. It is the power of life. This is the inexplicable force behind the wonders that early humans encountered. The Earth, the solar sys18 / The Truth About Witchcraft Today you had a real spell. Many seem to think that simply by gathering together a few objects (the stranger the better) and chanting a few words, the powers of the universe will spark and move and produce miracles. This is the proper peak of energy as well as to the prerequisite state of mind, the magician simply released the power and the spell was finished. Chants, candles, incense, and even the Moon contria specific energies which can be utilized in magic,

The Spell / 19

There is a power in the universe. It is the power of life. This is the inexplicable force behind the wonders that early humans encountered. The Earth, the solar system, the stars—all that is manifest—is a product of this power. Humans have given the names of "God" and "Goddess" to this energy source. It is that which is worshipped in every religion in various forms.

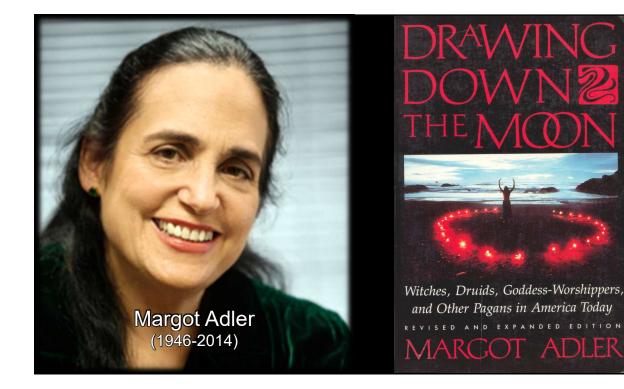

> duce the proper romantic atmosphere. The spell might have been worked exactly at midnight in a desolate area with the Full Moon shining far above. Strange words were chanted to stir the power within the magican. Finally, after an hour or so of working up to the

and the like—that powers the spell, that gets it moving. How does it work? We can't fully explain it yet, but the following theory seems valid: There is a power in the universe. It is the power of life. This is the inexplicable force behind the wonders that early humans encountered. The Earth, the solar sys-

One's "godhood" is actualized by the application of various occult techniques in the attempt to manipulate occult powers.

worldwide. Children in Iran are sent to die as martyrs in Iraq; Christians in America throw textbooks in the flames; Sikhs war in the Funjab; and in Israel Jewish fundamentalists continue to destroy the hopes of Israeli and Arab peace activities. When Drawing: Deam the Moon was published, the Iranian revolution was still new, Ronald Roegan had not entered the White House, and "détente" was still a word in common usage. The fundamentalist impulse-coupled with the inevitable rise of apocalpytic millernialism as we approach the year 2000–is, along with under war. How most discussed and the public set of the public flow. Preface to the Revised Edition • ix about modern Pagans is that they remain anti-authoritarian while retaining rituals and estatic techniques that, in our culture, are used only by dogmaic religions or are the province of small and forgotten tribal groups. While Neo-Paganism and modern Wicca are very anarchistic religions

While Neo-Paganism and modern Wicca are very anarchistic religions and it is probably wrong to say all Pagans believe this or that, there are some basic beliefs that most people in this book share:

The world is holy. Nature is holy. The body is holy. Sexuality is holy. The mind is holy. The imagination is holy. You are holy. A spiritual path that is not stagnant ultimately leads one to the understanding of one's own divine nature. Thou art Goddess. Thou art God. Divinity is imminent in all Nature. It is as much within you as without.

banged those they called Witches in order that their souls might be saved. They are not so different from their descendents in the 1980s who wisffully yearn for salvation, even if it takes the form of nuclear war. Drawing Down the Moon espouses radical polytheism. It is grounded in the view that reality is multiple and diverse. It stands against all of the totalistic religious and political views that dominate our society. It says, "Stive to be comfortable in chases and complexity. Be as a Shaman who walks in many worlds. Try to feel strong and whole and at home in a world of diversity." The book's basic assumption is that your own spiritual path is not necessarily mine. In fact, Islamic and Christian fundamentalism are seen here as appropriate individual spiritual paths as long as each is seen as merely one flower in the garden. Polytheism always includes monotheism. The reverse is not true. The book for the strong the path of the product of the strong the path.

always includes monothesim. The reverse is not true. The book focuses on modern Noe-Papanism and Witchcraft because these religions turn out to be a surprising and amazing attempt by Westerners in the heart of our industrial society to create non-authoritarian an and non-dogmatic religions. There are many anti-authoritarian religious groups from liberal Christians to Unitarians. What's unusual If you go far enough back, all our ancestors practiced religions that had neither creeds nor dogmas, neither prophets nor holy books. These religions were based on the celebrations of the seasonal cycles of nature. They were based on what people did, as opposed to what people believed. It is these polytheistic religions of imminence that are being revived and re-created by Neo-Pagans today. This book is the story of that Pagan resurece.

This book is the only detailed history of the origins of Neo-Paganiam in the United States. In preparing this new edition, there was a constant tension between keeping the book as a piece of history and the desire to bring people up to date. Many people wrote to me requesting that there e additions instead of changes. Moreover, there was no time for a truly massive reconstruction of a book that took more than four years to write. In the end, I took a middle course—leaving most of the book intact, adding several new sections, making small changes here and there, and creating an extensive Resource Guide to Pagan groups, festivals, and journals. In our quest for deity, the occult attempts to deceive humans into thinking that we can be like God in His fundamental attributes.

Sounterfeiting God's Omniscience

clairvoyance, fortune-telling, mind reading, ESP, Ouija Board, Tarot Cards, crystal balls, dowsing rods, palm reading, spiritism, necromancy, channeling, etc.

Sounterfeiting God's Omnipresence astral travel, out-of-the-body experience, time travel, remote viewing

Witchcraft Is Humanistic

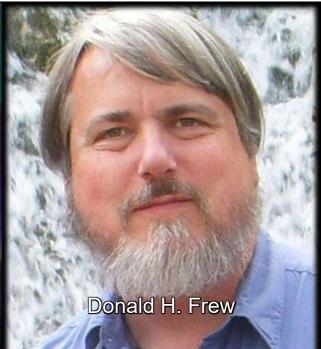

Starhawk (Miriam Simos)

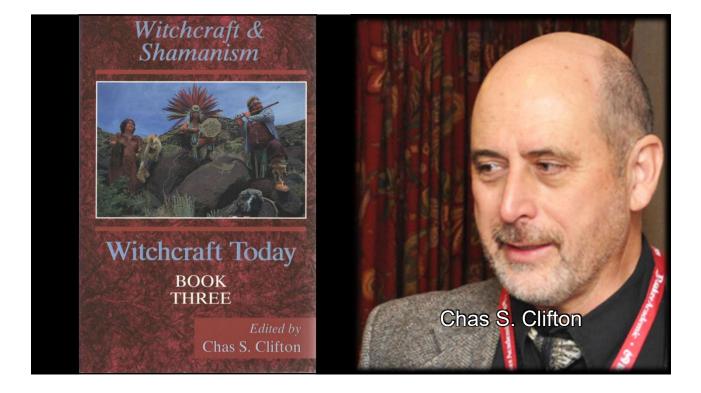

"We can open new eyes and see that there is nothing to be saved from, no struggle of life against the universe, no God outside the world to be feared and obeyed."

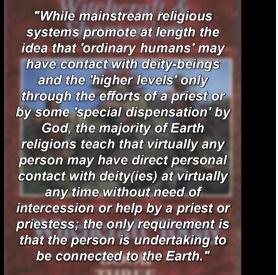

[Starhawk, The Spiral Dance: A Rebirth of the Ancient Religion of the Great Goddess (San Francisco: Harper and Row Publishers, 1979), 14, emphasis in original]

"How can we achieve salvation, then? We're not even trying to. We don't understand what there is to be saved from. The idea of salvation presupposes a Fall of some kind, a fundamental flaw in Creation as it exists today. Witches look at the world [around] us and see wonder, we see mystery."

[Donald H. Frew, "Pagans in Interfaith Dialogue: New Faiths, New Challenges," accessed October 20, 2004; available from http://www.cog.org/pwr/don.htm]

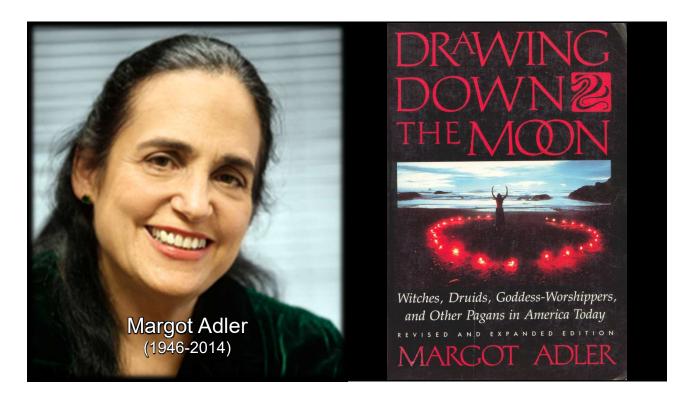

[George Dew, "Where New Pagans and Modern Cultural Beliefs Collide" in Chas S. Clifton, ed. Witchcraft Today, Book Three: Witchcraft and Shamanism (St. Paul: Llewellyn, 1994): 113-127 (114)]

George Dew

Witchcraft Is a Practice

 Margot Adler (1946-2014)

"If you go far enough back, all our ancestors practiced religions that had neither creeds nor dogmas, neither prophets nor holy books. These religions were based on the celebrations of the seasonal cycles of nature. They were based on what people did, as opposed to what people believed. It is these polytheistic religions of imminence that are being revived and re-created by Neo-Pagans today."

[Adler, Drawing Down the Moon, ix]

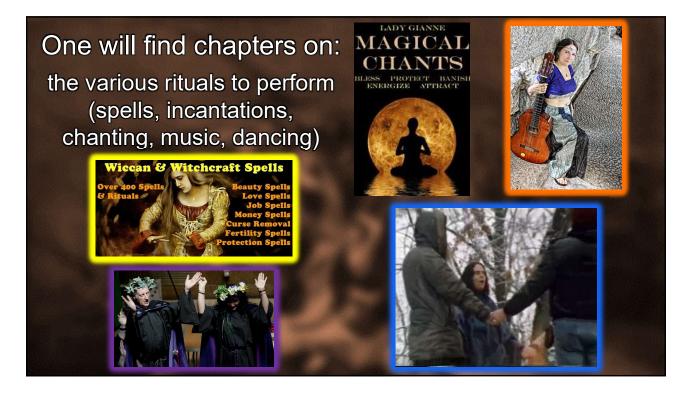

A look through Witchcraft material at the local bookstore will reveal that much of it deals with various rituals and activities that can be perfected in order to manipulate and utilize this cosmic or psychic force to do one's bidding.

One will find chapters on:

the various clothing to wear (robes, jewelry, horned helmet, when one is not working naked or "skyclad");

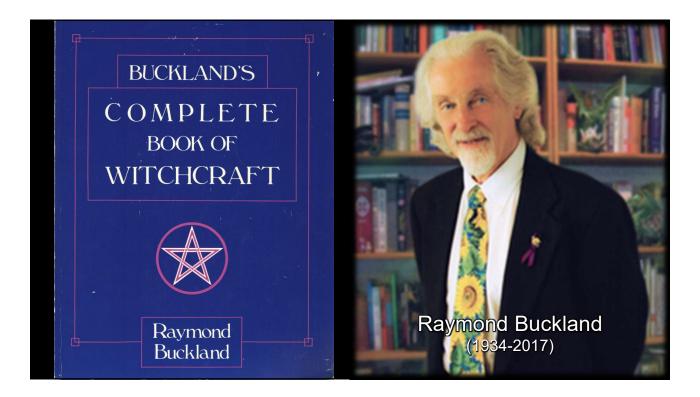

All of which enable the practitioner to become open to these forces (if they exist outside) or to conjure up these forces (if the originate from within).

One will learn how to:

➢ interpret dreams

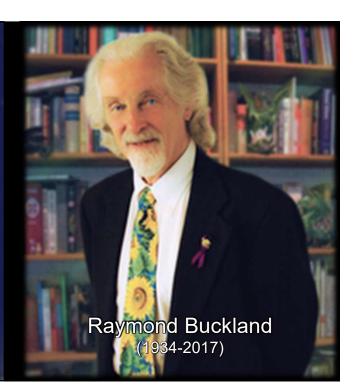

➤ meditate

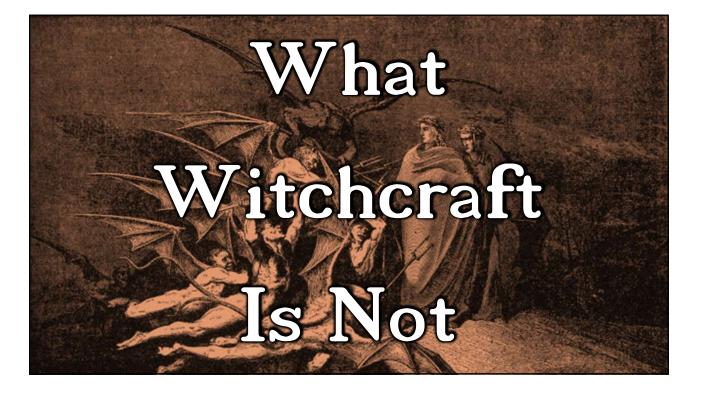

"So, what is meditation? Quite simply it is a listening ... listening to the Higher Self or, if you prefer, the Inner Self, the Creative Force, the Higher Consciousness; even the gods themselves. It can be all of these. Properly used, meditation opens the door to individual growth and personal advancement. Of all the techniques of advancement in the psychic and spiritual fields, meditation is by far the most effective. Coincidentally, it is also the most simple. And it can be practiced alone or in a group setting."

[Raymond Buckland, Buckland's Complete Book of Witchcraft (St. Paul: Llewellyn, 1990), 79.

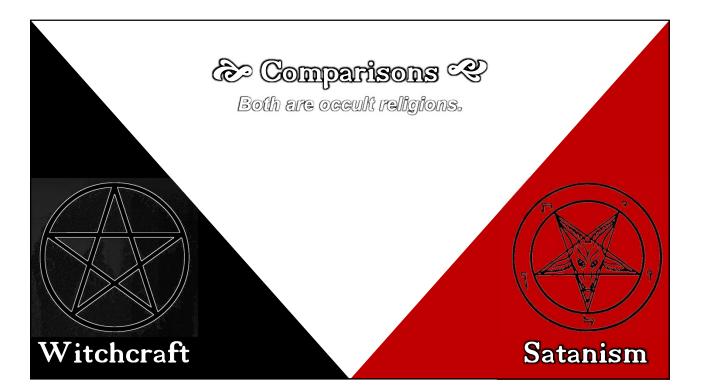

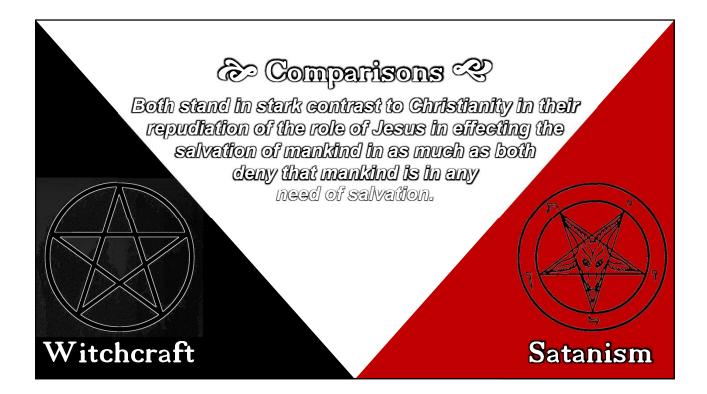

All of these activities are designed to do two things: to enhance the well-being of one's self or those around them and to actualize one's own divinity.

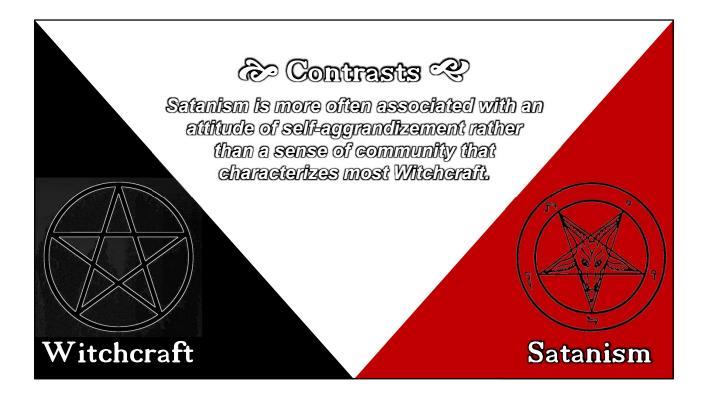

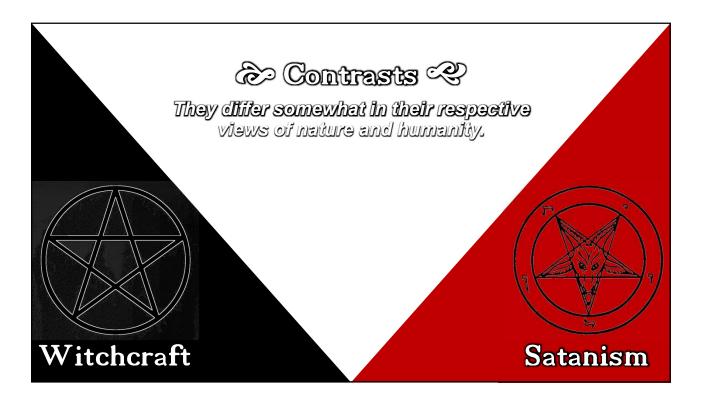

Witchcraft Is Not Satanism

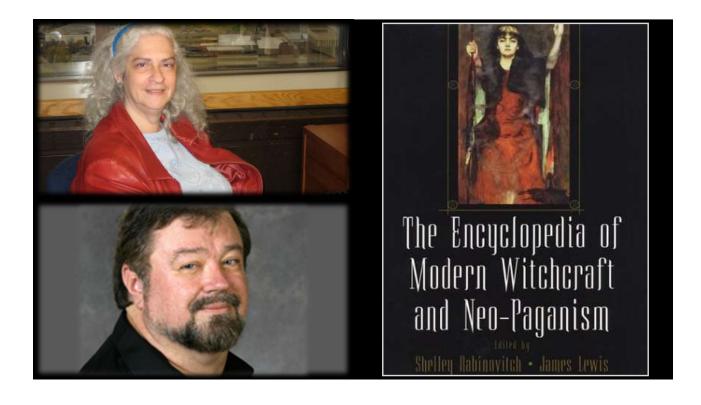

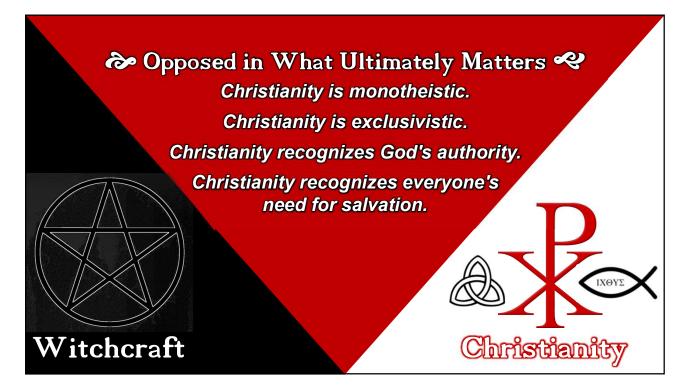

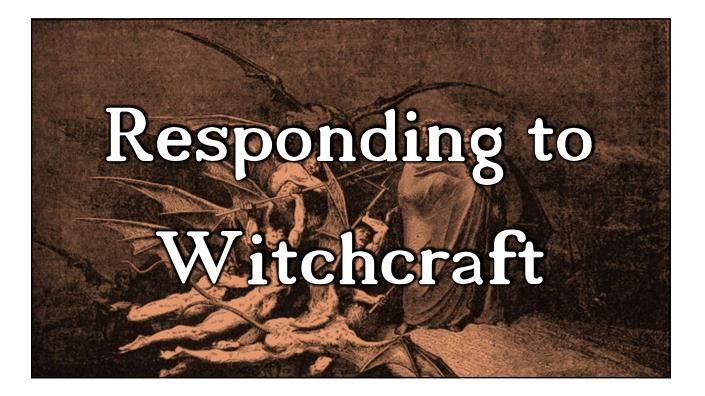

"To the neo-Pagan practitioner, nature is viewed as somewhere on a scale from benign to overtly positive, if not outright friendly toward humanity. The ideal in most neo-Pagan practice is to become as one with the natural world—to live in harmony with nature....In contrast, neo-Satanists view the natural world as somewhere between benign and openly hostile to humans."

[Shelley Rabinovitch and James Lewis, The Encyclopedia of Modern Witchcraft and Neo-Paganism (New York: Citadel Press, 2002), s.v. "Neo-Satanism Compared and Contrasted with Neo-Paganism," 185-186, emphasis in original]

Being informed creates credibility.

Being informed can help in being understood.

Being informed can help in overcoming obstacles to fruitful dialog. "Now may the Lord of peace Himself give you peace always in every way. The Lord be with you all." 2 Thessalonians 3:16

Sh arthury